

TOGA! TOGA! TOGA!

ACE Roman History Essay: Choose Your VIP and Begin Your Research

Name:

Date:

Directions:

An epitaph is a brief engraving on a tombstone that tells about the person's life or greatest achievements. Romans were either buried or cremated -- with the cremains placed in a cinerary that was shaped like a box or an urn or a pot. Some were plain, some elaborate. You can see a collection of beautiful cineraries at Emory's MCCM.

Choose your VIP (Very Imperial Person). Research your VIP by decorating this cinerary with words and/or pictures about his or her life.

A large, empty rectangular box with a perspective view, intended for students to decorate. The word PAX is printed in the center of the front face.